ADELAIDE AIRPORT EMERGENCY EXERCISE

Adelaide Airport Ltd (AAL) will be undertaking an emergency exercise on Wednesday April 21, 2010 to test its emergency and communications procedures.

The exercise will take place between 2.00pm and 4.00pm on the approach to the cross runway. It will involve airport staff, airlines staff, Airservices Australia, Air Traffic Control, and on-airport fire and rescue personnel.

The exercise will give AAL an opportunity to assess its procedures and training to ensure that any emergency is managed in a professional manner.

AAL says nearby residents, passing motorists, and passengers and visitors to Terminal 1 should be aware but not alarmed by the emergency services activity being undertaken as part of this exercise.

Editors note: Airside access for media will not be available during this exercise.
